Many of us see our influence as confined to the limits of our daily lives and experiences. NAWBO-LA recognizes that there is untold leverage to be had when women step-up to impact the business environment and affect change. JOIN US as we feature a distinguished panel of women who will give us insight on how the economic, social and political spheres of power intersect in today's society and ways that women are leading the way to become stewards of a future that we all share.

Panel Moderator: SUZIE SUH, CBS2/KCAL9

Born in S. Korea and raised in Southern California, Suzie is a general assignment reporter for the Orange County Bureau on the CBS2/KCAL9 News Team. Suzie's passion for journalism is rooted in her ability to learn something new every day and meeting the people who teach her those things.

Panel Speaker: The Honorable MARSHA RAMOS, City of Burbank

Marsha Ramos was elected to the Burbank City Council in 2001 and for a second term in 2005. She is currently serving as Mayor and she is a member of the MTA San Fernando Valley Service Sector Council representing the City of Burbank.

Panel Speaker: RENEE WHITE FRASER, Ph.D., Fraser Communications

Renee Fraser is President/CEO of Fraser Communications, a full-service advertising, marketing and public relations agency focused on delivering compelling communications that produce results for its clients. The company currently ranks the third-largest woman-owned company and ninth-fastest-growing private company in Los Angeles.

Panel Speaker: BETTY PORTO, Porto's Bakery

An immigrant from Cuba, Betty Portos is the co-owner of Porto's Bakery. Porto's Bakery is a family-owned business that has served Glendale and its surrounding communities for over 35 years; and has recently opened a new store in Burbank. Porto's success comes from their belief that customers are an extension of their family and quality is the cornerstone of their tradition.

Panel Speaker: JONI TOPPER, Wachovia Bank

Joni Topper serves as West Region Director for Wachovia Bank, responsible for government, not-for-profit, education and healthcare client banking relationships. She joined Wachovia in 2007 as its Southern California Regional President, responsible for establishing the wholesale banking teams in Los Angeles, Orange County and San Diego.
